

[Intro]

(Instrumental build-up with orchestral flair)

[Chorus]

Break my chains,

Take my pain and use it for Your gain.

Break the bonds,

Make me strong, I will never be the same.

Break my chains!

(Repeat)

[Verse 1]

In the land of Jericho, the walls stood tall,

A city fortified, thought they'd never fall.

With trumpets sounding, faith began to rise,

For in the hearts of many, hope would materialize.

Seven times they marched, on that fateful day,

With faith so unyielding, they cried out and prayed,

As the walls came tumbling, down to the ground,

Shouting hallelujahs, freedom they found.

[Chorus]

Break my chains,

Take my pain and use it for Your gain.

Break the bonds,

Make me strong, I will never be the same.

Break my chains!

(Repeat)

[Verse 2]

In the depths of darkness, Paul found his plight,
Locked in a prison cell, chained through the night.

But prayer and worship, unshaken they rose,
At midnight, they sang; oh, how their faith glows!

Then came the earthquake, shaking the ground,
Chains were broken, and freedom was found.

The doors flew open, an angel appeared,
And in that dark moment, every doubt disappeared.

[Chorus]

Break my chains,
Take my pain and use it for Your gain.

Break the bonds,
Make me strong, I will never be the same.

Break my chains!

(Repeat)

[Bridge]

On the day of judgment, when all will stand,
The faithful will rise, held in Your hand.
No more lies, no more shame, every heart will proclaim,
We found our freedom, and we live in Your name.

As the heavens declare and the earth sings along,
We dance in Your glory, where we all belong!

[Chorus]

Break my chains,

Take my pain and use it for Your gain.

Break the bonds,

Make me strong, I will never be the same.

Break my chains!

(Repeat with increasing power)

[Outro]

(Instrumental fade-out, as the sounds of orchestra and voices rise)

Together we rise, in service and love,

In heart and in spirit, we lift up above!

Break my chains, forever proclaim,

In joy and in hope, we worship Your name.