

Your Mercies Are New Lyrics

[Verse 1]

In the stillness of the morning light,
A gentle breeze carries whispers of Your might,
Every leaf and every flower sings Your praise,
In this sacred space, my heart ablaze.
You refresh me, Lord, as dawn breaks, so bright,
With mercies renewed, You guide me through the night.
The world may fade, but Your love remains,
In the quiet moments, my soul retains.

[Chorus]

You refresh me in the morning,
Your mercies are new,
You surround me with Your loving arms,
And all I want is to worship You.
In every moment, in every breath,
I lift my heart to You, my Savior, my rest.
Forever grateful, my song will rise,
In Your embrace, I find my skies.

[Verse 2]

Through valleys low and mountains high,
Your presence walks with me, right by my side.
In the beauty of creation, I see Your grace,

Every sunset paints a masterpiece, a holy place.

The rivers flow with melodies divine,

When I call upon You, You always shine.

The echo of Your love, it never fades away,

In the arms of Your mercy, I find my way.

[Chorus]

You refresh me in the morning,

Your mercies are new,

You surround me with Your loving arms,

And all I want is to worship You.

In every moment, in every breath,

I lift my heart to You, my Savior, my rest.

Forever grateful, my song will rise,

In Your embrace, I find my skies.

[Bridge]

As the mountains dance to the rhythm of the rain,

I can feel Your Spirit washing over every pain.

With nature as my choir, I sing out Your name,

In the harmony of the universe, it's all the same.

Creation bows in reverence to Your throne,

In this heart of worship, I am never alone.

Your love is a beacon, leading me through,

In the stillness of the morning, my heart is made new.

[Chorus]

You refresh me in the morning,
Your mercies are new,
You surround me with Your loving arms,
And all I want is to worship You.
In every moment, in every breath,
I lift my heart to You, my Savior, my rest.
Forever grateful, my song will rise,
In Your embrace, I find my skies.

[Outro]

So I'll sing to the heavens, my voice will proclaim,
In the beauty of Your presence, I will never be the same.
With every sunrise, my love will renew,
Forever in worship, I long to be with You.
